THEATERS BAR STOCK JOKES

Worcester (Mass.) Playhouses Eliminate Cracks at Policemen

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WORCESTER (Mass.)

April 6.—Theater managers here have announced that they appreciate the attentiveness of police officers and are going to co-operate with them in the future.

Chief Hill and not allow the dignity of the millions of the law to suffer jokes about policemen. Performers can't make any more cracks about cooks and backdoor hand-outs, big feet, or the ancient one about dragging the dead horse from Massachusetts, because the officer who found the carcass didn't want to mispell the first-named thoroughfare on his report slip.

Beginning with January, sales of the commodity reached the peak during the summer months and fall off perceptibly with the approach of the Christmas season.

Discussing confectionery generally, the report says that with the possible exception of continental Europe, where easy access to raw materials has developed the market, to the point where American exporters find it difficult to meet the price competition of foreign manufacturers, most of the countries offer fields for the further development of the export trade of this country.

In some of the markets which seem to offer large possibilities to American exporters, especially at points of transit, American confessions are not displayed for sale. The department stresses the value of advertising in order to popularize confectionery lines, and gives the preferred methods of procedure for entering those markets.

FOOD EXPORTS INCREASE

American farmers may not be greatly interested in the foreign market for chewing gum, candy, but they will be in the growing demand abroad for foodstuffs produced in the United States, which is shown in another report of the Department of Commerce.

Foodstuffs exports increased last year $127,025,000 over 1923, and the rapid growth in these foreign shipments is seen when the 1924 total is compared with prewar exports of 1913. In the latter year they amounted to but a little over $500,000,000, while in 1924 they were almost $1,000,000,000, the exact increase being $499,975,000.

During the last two years a generally smaller percentage of our foodstuffs exports have been going to European markets and a larger percentage to North American markets and China. Italy is the only European country showing a larger market basket to us in 1923 and 1924 than in 1913. The decreased proportions in the cases of England and the Netherlands are particularly noteworthy. In 1913 the foodstuffs exported to the United Kingdom comprised 30.9 per cent of the total United States exports of those products, as compared with 28.7 per cent in 1923 and 26.7 per cent in 1924. The Netherlands show an even greater proportionate falling off from 11.7 per cent in 1913 to 7.7 and 8.9 per cent in 1923 and 1924, respectively.

CANADA TAKES MORE

Canada is taking a much larger part of the United States foodstuffs exports than before the war. In 1913 our northern neighbor took 7.7 per cent of our total exports in that line and ranked fourth as a market for those products. In 1923 Canada took 11 per cent and in 1924, 15.6 per cent. In the latter year Canada was second only to the United Kingdom as a market for our foodstuffs.

Of the principal items of export to the United Kingdom, hams and shoulders, bacon, sugar, corn and canned milk showed a decrease, whereas the exports of wheat, grain and flour, lard, barley, apples and canned and dried fruits registered important gains.

Canada increased her purchases of our foodstuffs 72 per cent last year and this striking gain was due almost entirely to her increased demand for rye and wheat. Prohibition enforcement officials may take note of this. Time was when our rye was largely used at home, a certain line of manufacture transforming it into a popular beverage. It is possible, of course, that the scofflaws of the United States still are the principal consumers of that rye, getting it back in bottled form after it has been transformed by Canadian distillers.

Practically all of the other leading items of our exports to Canada, such as meats, lard, eggs, citrus fruits, canned fruit and cottonseed oil, showed a decided decrease in 1924.

Finding of Slain Man May Solve Mystery Case

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) April 6.—Valencia county officers today were working on a clue that the body of a man found slain near Grants, N. M., last Friday night might be that of William Erkelens of Crawford, N. J., who mysteriously disappeared when on an automobile trip between El Centro, Cal., and Albuquerque last December.

Mrs. Erkelens was in Albuquerque on December 29, 1924, from her home in New Jersey to meet her husband and accompany him east. He failed to arrive and no trace of him could be found.

The body was found wrapped in canvas and tried with a rope.

LEAGUES TO CELEBRATE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) April 6.—Celebrating the thirty-first anniversary of the founding of the Epworth League, young people throughout Southern Methodist territory will unite in observing the Anniversary Day next Sunday. Dr. F. S. Parker, general secretary of the Epworth League Board, cites the fact that 15,000 Methodist young people attended the thirty-seven conference assemblies of the league and the 100 general assemblies held in 1924.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The spring fire season, which begins practically with the beginning of spring all through the Atlantic Coast region and the Mississippi Valley is a time of hardship for early nesting birds of all kinds. Such birds depend upon the accumulating of natural growth for cover and for their feed during early spring.

It therefore can be seen, says Dr. E. W. Nelson, chief of the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, that to allow ranges to be swept by fire is injurious to both birds and small wild animals. As the growth of the previous years become sufficiently dry to burn, it is the practice of many to set fire to it with the hope of improving the ranges, and in many cases, of ridding the lands of ticks.

The Department has repeatedly stated that it is impossible to rid lands of ticks in this way, and it also has been shown that instead of improving ranges by burning the dry grass and leaves, such lands become gradually poorer each year so that the growth which they can support is less and less vigorous and extensive. Many State foresters are particularly active at this time as such fires are destructive to forest growth as well as to wild life.

Everyone who is interested in the protection of wild life, says Dr. Nelson, should join in an effort to point out the loss from such fires and to co-operate in every way to prevent them.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—Suffering from a perpetual headache and approaching blindness, the cause of which physicians were unable to determine, Harry M. Hutchison, an electrician, anesced from his nasal tubes an inch and a half piece of a quarter-inch steel drill with which he was stabbed twelve years ago.

Hutchison said that he was stabbed through the nose with a fellow-workman. He did not know that the point of the drill had been broken, and was treated by physicians at the time for a fractured nose. The wound healed, but the years gave him no further trouble. Then, he said, the headaches started.

Then, recently, while reclining in a barber's chair he, being shaved, was seized with a paroxysm of sneezing and dislodged the obstacle.

"My relief was almost instant," said Hutchison. "Already the sight of my left eye has improved noticeably, and I have no headache for the first time in ten years."

EASTERNERS BUY NEVADA GOLD ROAD

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The San Francisco Call says today that a number of eastern capitalists have interested themselves in the revival of gold mining in the Eureka (Nev.) district. John M. Sherrill, of Brooklyn, Mass., is said by the Call to be one of the chief backers of the new syndicate.

The syndicate, the Call says, has purchased the Eureka, Nevada, railway running between Eureka and Pailades, Nev., a distance of eighty-seven miles. The mining properties purchased are some of the most famous in the Eureka district.

Agreements whereby the properties leave the hands of Ogden Mills, the Whittell estate and John E. Sexton, already have been signed, according to the Call, the total consideration having been approximately $4,000,000.

Edward H. Watson, Framingham, Mass., and Thomas W. Pelham of Brookline are associated with Sherrill in developing the properties.

BIRD LIFE IS HARD HIT BY WOODS FIRES

Forest Flames in Spring Make Nesting Difficult in East and Mid-West

Poet and Grizzly Clash Opens Southern Conference Baseball Season Next Saturday

WHITTIER NINE MEETS BRANCH

Coach Works Has Developed a New Battery

Local Team Has Lost Three of Practice Games

Rube Ellis Contending With a Green Squad

Coach Cady Works will take his Southern Branch ball team to Whittier Saturday for the Grizzlies' first Southern Conference game of the season, and judging from the way the two outfits have been going in their practice games, the Branch nine should not have trouble trimming the Poets. Rube Ellis, who is serving his second year as mentor of the Quaker ball club, has too many new faces in the line-up to win many games this year. The Poets dropped a contest to the Los Angeles Ath. Club team a short time ago by a one-sided score, plenty of errors as well as hits accounting for the club's runs.

The Grizzlies' last year's conference champions, figure to have some stiff competition this year. Occidental and Pomona furnishing most of it. Last season the Vermont-avenue club, with Al Montgomery and Joe Ullman doing the battery work, topped ten straight, and lost but two during the entire season. Coach Works has had to develop a new battery as well as fill in three new places in the infield, which is not yet accomplished to any successful degree. The hurling staff is up to last year's standard, but Hodge, behind the bat, cannot come up to Ullman by a long shot. Hodge lacks the experience at handling pitchers, and is weak with the stick. Loren Peak may well be a few games behind the bat before the year is over, but the few fellow is needed at first base more than behind the bat.

The infield, with Peak at first, McDougall as second, Al Wagner at third and Tais at short, has plenty of hitting strength, but lacks the co-ordination that marked the work of the last year's inner works. A little more practice may get them to working together, as experience is all that is needed.

The outfield, with three veterans back, is good, and Coach Works will have no worries about the outfield. Capt. Turner in center is one of the best ball chasers seen for a long time, while his partners, Aaron Wagner and Burns, can cover lots of ground. These three are the heavy hitters of the squad, and will show in lots of runs before the season is ended.

COAST LEAGUE OPENS TODAY

Benton bats next, preceding either Hunsford or Thomas. Tex Crosby, the catcher, is in the eighth spot.

USE SAME LINE-UP

Marty Krug will use the same line-up that faced the Pirates, to wit: Twombly, center field; Pittenger, short-stop; Whaley, third base; Horan, right field; Grimes, first base; Hood, left field; Sandberg, catcher; Beck, second base, and then the pitcher.

The Beavers will be arrayed in grey traveling uniforms this year instead of the blue bluffs that marked the Portland outfit for some years back. Under the reign of the McCreedies the Ducks started wearing blue monkey-suits while on the road and have continued right on down, except for a brief spell during the war when durable blue dye was unobtainable. Los Angeles players will be togged in the customary white uniforms, the same as they wore last year.

LETTER GO

All in all, everything is all set for the opening. As some distinguished orator once said some place at a vital moment, "You may fire when ready, but don't shoot till you see the whites of their eyes."

HARRY WINKLER IS SECURED BY LOCAL Y.M.C.A.

The local Y.M.C.A. has just secured the services of Harry E. Winkler of Minneapolis, former featherweight champion of the Northwest, who is already busy signing up both young and old boxing enthusiasts. Winkler was in the ring for five years. He met such celebrities as Billy DePue, Matty McCue, George Stevens, and Jack Sharkey, and managed and trained such noted pugilists as Fred Fulton, Mike O'Dowd, Bob Moha and Otto Wallace.

Winkler was at one time boxing instructor in the Marine Corps, Athletic Club, the Twin-City Club, and the Citizens' Club. Three of his pupils were instructors for the Army during the war, and one of his products is now instructor in the University of Minnesota.

He will give lessons Monday and Thursday evenings. It was stated yesterday at the "Y," and was available at the association every afternoon and evening for interview and private instruction.

FRENCHMAN WANTS TOO MUCH COIN

Richard Eager to Sign Up Pair for Bout at Garden on May 5

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, April 6.—Kid Kaplan of Meriden, Ct., and Edouard Mascart of France may meet in Madison Square Garden on May 5 in the last fight battle ever to be staged in that ancient and storied amphitheater, but after today's negotiations there were few indications that Rickard will be able to put this match across. Kaplan is signed and ready to go, but Mascart remains very much aloof, and demands so much money for his services that Tex Rickard said tonight it would be almost impossible to do business with him. There will be one more conference tomorrow, however, and there is some chance that the match may be closed, but the prospects are not bright.

Spitter Causes Funniest Play Seen by Rixey

BY AL DEMAREE

(Former Pitcher, N. Y. Giants)

"The funniest thing I ever remember seeing in the major league," says Eppa Rixey, "happened in Pittsburgh in 1915 when Jack Coombe was managing the Phillies. We were playing the Pirates. Bradley Hogg, a spitball pitcher, was pitching for us, and Irish Meusel was playing right field. The score was 3 to 1 in our favor in the eighth inning, with Pittsburgh at bat, two out and two men on base. Hogg dashed up a spitter to the batter, whom he angled to right field, where Irish Meusel was stationed. Meusel picked up the ball and tried to throw it back to the infield, but his thumb came in contact with the wet spot on the ball and the ball slipped out of his hand and went over a low wire fence on the right-field line. All three runs scored."

"Hogg walked to the bench, muttering to himself."

AFTER NEW GOLF LAURELS

Johnny McHugh, former State and Northern California amateur champion, is entered in the Southern California tournament which opens today on the links of the Los Angeles Country Club. He is among the best of the golfers entered and may carry off new honors for himself.

THIS is the day dedicated to the yachtsman, but there are millions of his kind and he is one of the most persistent of all "fans" on any subject or sport. The baseball fan may be less noticeable and noisy during certain times of the year when the national game is not in season, but his mind is never off the subject. You can stir up an argument on baseball with him in the middle of a football game when the score is nothing to nothing and the ball is on the two-yard line. He'll forget all about the imminent touchdown and begin waving his arms and exuding warm air after the fashion of his kind.

But the baseball bug is not to be sneezed at. We have a lot of them occupying the lofty position of President of the local club, and from that place on down to the little ragged muffs who hang outside the park and chase fowls in order to get in and see the game. A game of one country is filled with them. The followers of baseball are probably more representative of the population of the country than those of any other sport.

For years baseball has been on the upgrade on the Pacific Coast. It was hampered for a while by internal dissension among the clubs, but under the leadership of Harry Williams, who for many years supplied the readers of The Times with their baseball news and dope, the game has reached a pinnacle of interest that is quite without equal in minor-league history and which points inevitably to the day when the Pacific Coast will have baseball which will equal major-league stuff in attendance and in class.

The season which is to open today, providing the weather men doesn't lose his temper, has all the earmarks of being even greater than last year's, which cracked all existing records. The teams seem to be unusually well matched as to material, and the interest shown in the present season's games would indicate rather unusual interest on the part of the fans. Our local teams have been doing well, and there seems to be good reason to believe that we have a rather fair chance of taking a pennant waving over our ball park again in the not too distant future.

Little Bill Johnston gave the crowd at Midway Sunday the first indication of his ability when he hit a home run to a red-hot three-run match and twice had the champion point-match and a good shot on which to win it, only on each occasion to shoot too deep to Tilden's baseline. Johnston had Tilden 4-1 in the final set, but seemed to try to play safe at that point. Johnston had Tilden 4-1 in the final set, but seemed to try to play safe at that point.

There is no question of Johnston's ability to come back in the fullest sense of the word of he can get down to work and build up his strength. Whether he can take enough time from earning his living to put himself through a course of sports is a question, of course, but Johnston as he was playing Sunday would never be even threatened by any player in the world with the exception of Tilden.

OBSERVATIONS
TWO STAR HALF-MILERS

Let us consider exhibit A and exhibit B. Exhibit A is Alan Helfrich, while exhibit B is Bill Richardson. They are two of the greatest half-milers now competing. I first knew Alan when he was one of the youngest members of the 1920 Olympic team. "Little Nell" we called him. He had never been out of Yonkers before, and a trip to Europe was a great adventure for him.

Coach "Dink" Templeton pointed out exhibit B to me in February, 1923 during an interclass meet on the Stanford University track. "Watch that freshman," he said, "he's going to be the best half-miler we ever had here." The truth of Templeton's prophecy was well brought out about a year and a half later in the final Olympic tryouts at the Harvard Stadium. Again I sat with the Stanford coach, and his shrill of "Bill wins" was quickly followed by "Remember what I told you?" as Bill Richardson defeated the best middle-distance runners in the country, and set a new American record for 800 meters of 1m. 53.6-10s.

When the famous Ted Meredith established the present world's record of 1m. 51.3-10s. for 800 meters at the Olympic Games in Stockholm in 1912, he went on to 80 yards and set a new mark of 1m. 53.2-10s. for the half-mile. It took him just three-fifths of a second to cover the intervening 5-10 yards. Helfrich's best time for the half-mile is 1m. 54.4s. which is just three-fifths of a second more than Richardson's 800-meter record. Exhibit A and exhibit B are evenly matched.

When you figure a left-handed batter is getting set to bunt crowd him all you can. This will take from his confidence, for he will worry and won't feel so safe in dumping the ball down. The left-handed batter has no easy task placing the ball on a bunt down the base line.

CLAREMONT, April 7.—With the reopening of college tomorrow after a ten-day spring vacation, Coach Pol Perritt starts active training of his varsity baseball men for their first Southern California Conference game with the Caltech Engineers at Pasadena Saturday afternoon. Although the Sagehen nine has suffered losses in early season games, they are expected to round into a strong club before the Caltech encounter. In the few weeks of practice preceding vacation Perritt was mainly engrossed in finding out the relative abilities of his players. No definite varsity line-up has been made as yet, but by the middle of the week it is fairly certain that "Pol" will know who he will start against the Engineers.

Other men on whom "Perritt is depending are Martin and Willis, first basemen; Pete Spicer, second baseman; Dick Worden, short; Leslie Heald, third; Packard and Bell, catchers, and Mills, Bradley and several others in the field.

ABBIT PUNCHES
PAUL LOWRY

BOBBY BARRIETT, the red-headed wallop, from Pennsylvania, is saying a temporary good-bye to Los Angeles today. The "Leiperville" lad has some business to attend to in the East, and is hustling to his former home to clean it up and return to the land of sunshine and flowers and rain. He is sold heart and soul on the Golden State, and plans to make his home here. His family arrived soon after his postponed fight with Dode Bercot last January.

Like Jimmy Dandery, his manager, Bobby declares he never met a better bunch of sportsmen than he came in contact with here in California, and while he is disappointed in not obtaining a shot at the title here, he is not discouraged. In the last two years ago, he expresses the greatest satisfaction over his treatment here in California. Bercot, who twice defeated him, and Lonnie Austin, the Seattle pugilist, are his letter to the writer follows:

"I want to say on behalf of California and the patrons of the boxing game and boxers, promoters and managers with whom I have had an occasion to transact business that the U.S. I was never treated more fairly or ever met a more honorable set of sportsmen.

"I was very unfortunate to contract the grip when I first came to California. It handicapped me to a great extent, and I have never been able to feel exactly right since. I have no excuses to offer, as I gave the best I had in me, and I feel that those who saw me perform were satisfied.

"I have had very good fight offers in San Francisco and another in Portland, but I have had to cancel them to some extent, while I require my personal attention.

"In addition my hand, which hurt in San Francisco fighting Sacco, needs a few weeks' rest. It handicapped me in my last fight."

Well, Bobby, we are sorry to see you go, and we certainly will be glad to watch you in action on your return. Anybody that packs a kick in his mitt like you is sure of a turnout whenever he fights. Having twice had personal contact with the flu, which is what you had rather than the grip soon after you landed in Los Angeles, we can testify that it often requires a long period of careful living to restore one's former vigor.

And yet we know that your illness was not mentioned as an alibi for your two defeats at the hands of Dode Bercot. You are too good a sportsman. You displayed that in your fight at Vernon. Personally, we feel that if you were more victorious you would be a greater fighter. At any rate you don't leave your sportsmanship behind when you climb into the ring.

MEET TO TEST HAWAII'S DEFENSE

Island Base is Back of War Game

Land, Sea, Submarine Equipment on Trial

It is the third of a series of maneuvers in which Gen. Hines and the people of the Hawaiian Islands are behind the fleet. The fleet is the control of the Pacific.

JOHN L. HINES, United States Army, is in command of the Hawaiian Islands. He is the principal effort when Ian Hamilton assailed the Dardanelles, the principal effort was military efforts.

ADMIRAL SIMS' PLAN

It has been related how, sometime after America entered the World War, Admiral Sims' staff in London submitted a plan for the capture of the fortified port of Cattaro on the east side of the Adriatic Sea, then being used as a base for German submarines. The plan contemplated the use of our predreadnaught battleships, a fleet of submarines, and a number of mine sweepers, and destroyers, backed by 30,000 troops.

The plan was the occasion for the assembling in London of general officers of America, Italy, France, Great Britain, and Japan, and the admirals of their navies, together with staff officers. The meeting was the first and only occasion previous to the Armistice when the military and naval leaders of the Allies assembled for joint planning. We had the ships, the fortifications were not too far from the port was remote from support, and the gain in closing it would have been great.

Success would have added very greatly to the security of Allied sea transport communications in the Mediterranean, at a time when success in the war seemed to hinge largely on keeping enough shipping in operation.

The plan was rejected because the general staff and the navy were not too far from the port was remote from support, and the gain in closing it would have been great.

ROLE OF ARTILLERY

Since it is to be expected that the forces which will attack the Hawaiian Islands, in any future war as in our maneuvers, will include substantial landing forces, we have provided mobile troops located at Schofield Barracks, located in the center of the island, between the two mountain ranges. In that division there are infantry and 75 mm. and 155 mm. guns with motorized transportation. We have in addition heavy tractor 155 mm. guns, heavy mortar artillery mounted on rail-way carriages, and antiaircraft artillery.

The fighting infantrymen, of course, can anywhere to resist enemy attempts at penetrating the island. During the maneuvers they will march from their central position at Schofield Barracks to any threatened point on the coast line. The mobility of the artillery units has been tested in actual operation. On the railway, which eventually will circle the entire island of Oahu, but now actually only goes a little more than half-way round, the railway mortar regiment has been thoroughly tested at speeds of twenty-five miles an hour on the (average) and twenty miles on all curves.

The tracks and curves and bridges were proved capable of carrying the 50-odd tons of material loaded on the cars. During the year just past several test marches of motorized artillery were made around the island, with the result that the equipment was found capable of being moved at high rates of speed over the first-class roads of Oahu under all weather conditions. Our tests conducted prior to the maneuvers have proved the mobility of the artillery.

PHASES OF CAMPAIGN

There is a more modern method of defense still to be considered, the defense by airplane, a method that has undoubted value, though not as yet of such certainty as to warrant sole dependence upon aircraft for the neglect of other tried methods of combat. Our final line of defense will be the fighting infantrymen supported with machine guns and 75's placed to cover the shore line and repulse enemy attempts to land. But before the enemy gains contact with this force he will have to deal with the huge mobile 155's and with the fixed coast guns, which can lay down a heavy fire on any ship coming within 25,000 yards of any shore line of Oahu.

Yet the shore fight will be the third phase of the maneuvers, and the big gun fight will be the second phase. The first phase will be the long-distance phase, the aircraft and submarine phase, during which the approaching hostile fleet will be out of range of projectiles from our shore batteries. The air service with its bombing planes and the submarine units of the naval districts must be depended on to make life uncomfortable on any enemy warships that dare to approach the shores. Both of these weapons, the aircraft and the submarine, will be especially perilous to hostile troops on transport. Possibly the Blue fleet will never be able to reach the Hawaiian shores at all.

WHERE TO DINE

The air equipment and facilities on Oahu consequently become of prime importance, and in spite of plane shortages, strenuous attempts are constantly made to keep air equipment and facilities on Oahu at maximum efficiency. They have just been replenished so as to be ready for the maneuvers. Six separate landing fields have been established. We have provided for Oahu an observation squadron to assist in adjustment of long range fire, which has demonstrated real efficiency during target practice.

In addition we have established the bombardment aviation for attacking hostile fleets; and also pursuit, or fighting, planes to combat whatever aerial forces an enemy might bring along with him. The training of these units has, as the department commander reports, reached the desired standard and all air units are indicated to be "highly efficient." The flyers have continually worked in co-operation with mobile ground troops, with artillery of all calibers, and with the services of information.

LAND AND SEA PLANES

The aviators rising from the islands have a distinct advantage over any aviators attacking feet could bring. Airplanes carriers have limited capacities. Their planes would have difficulties in refueling or repairing. The garrison planes, on the other hand, might be maintained in practically unlimited numbers. Their supplies and repair shops might be as extensive as are needed.

The island planes might always be maintained at a strength superior to any invading planes that have to come by ship over more than 2000 miles of ocean. With a numerous and efficient air service and effective submarine units at Oahu, we shall have an excellent chance of crippling hostile approach during the first phase. To determine how good that chance is, one of the main motives of the April exercises.

AIR SERVICE'S TASK

The usefulness of the Air Service for defense can perhaps best be made plain by quoting from the words of a naval officer on the general subject of such an attack as is contemplated in the coming maneuvers:

"One of the questions of long standing regarding fortifications is the propriety of attacking them with ships. Recent advances in aeronautics, in mining, and in artillery have all strengthened relatively the defense of seacoast positions, so that today the reduction of seacoast fortifications is a land job—not a sea job. The Army will do the front line work, the Navy will be the service of supply. "I doubt even if fortifications have much to fear from the attack of the naval air service until the main decision between the fleets has taken place. The air attack on fortifications is more likely to come from the land forces than from the naval forces. On the other hand, the supporting air forces will be free to, and should, attack all naval forces within their area of operations."

SIX THOUSAND IN HUNT

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) April 6.—Six thousand people, 30,000 rabbits and 800 sections of land—that is the way folks around Dimmitt, Castro county, are talking about Wednesday's rabbit drive. It will be the largest ever held in the United States, covering more territory and probably netting more rabbits. A barbecue will be held in connection with the drive.

BRIGHTEST STAR CLASSIFIED

Harvard Observatory Declares S Doradus Most Luminous Spot In Entire Universe

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) April 6.—A star 600,000 times as bright as the sun and more than 185,000,000 miles in diameter has been classified by the Harvard University Observatory, according to a bulletin just issued by Director Harlow Shapley. This star, which is known in the catalogues as S Doradus, is the most luminous now known—possibly the brightest object in the entire universe.

S Doradus is located in the large Magellanic cloud in the constellation Dorado, near the south pole of the heavens, and is visible only to observers south of the equator. It is a variable star, ranging in apparent magnitude from 8.2 to 9.4 (an increase or decrease of slightly more than three times in brightness), and is invisible to the naked eye, although visible in telescopes of small aperture.

VAULTED ENERGY

According to the latest theories of stellar evolution, a star or sun loses mass in the act of giving off radiation. Director Shapley calculates that S Doradus radiates energy at such a terrific rate that it loses two and one-half trillion tons of mass per second. This rate may have been constant irregularly by one or two of the novae, or "blaze stars," that have flamed up in the sky only to fade away again, but it is not equaled by any other known object in the celestial vault.

As faint traces of nebulosity appear around S Doradus in long-time exposures, it is assumed to be a true member of the Magellanic cloud, or star cluster, in which it appears. This remarkable cluster was first observed by the navigator, Andrea Corrales, in 1516, and was named in honor of Magellan, the explorer.

Warts Latest Curse at Hard Hit University

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

MADISON (Wis.) April 6.—The University of Wisconsin has been enduring all sorts of ills from La Folletteism to mumps and pip, radially, borescandals and a letting down in its athletic prowess.

Quite recently the university passed through an epidemic of mumps and afflicted students were sorry specimens.

Now it is an epidemic of warts on the feet. Dr. J. C. Elson of the physical educational department says there is a marked increase in the number of students coming to the clinic with warts on their feet. He characterizes it as a skin disease. Usually the growth is on the sole of the foot. The cause is not known and the epidemic appears to be confined to the university students.

New England Community Can't Find Candidate to Take Policeman's Job

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

EAST ROCHESTER (N. H.) April 4.—Because the salary of the police officer of this town is but $3.33 a month, it is expected that it will be a hard matter to obtain a successor to Clarence Pierce, who was elected by the City Council in January, but who has resigned.

While there is not much for a police officer to do here, he is subject to call at any hour of the day or night. The town has 1100 population, but only one arrest was made last year, and that was a minor who was incorrigible, and was committed to the State Industrial School.

The officer here is under the orders of the City Marshal at Rochester, but he is the whole regular force. Had Officer Pierce found it necessary to call for help he has eight brothers whom he could have deputized.

First Love Again Proves Right to Its Superiority

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

MT. VERNON (Ill.) April 6.—After all, it is the first love that is lasting, and those who doubt it are referring to Earl Bainbridge and his second wife, Dora, for first-hand testimony.

They were married twelve years ago, but differences arose and they were divorced. Each found another mate, but the new marital bonds in each case became irksome and they again sought relief in the divorce courts.

Both happened to visit the village of Cambria, the scene of their early love, and the old flame sprang up with great vigor. As a result they came to this city and were remarried yesterday, and are now enjoying their second honeymoon together and their third in all.

NEGLECT RESULTS IN LOSS OF HAIR

Scalp Specialist Says Proper Care Would Prevent Many Cases of Baldness

The mere use of comb and brush three or four times a day is not sufficient attention to pay to one's hair.

ture's most wonderful gift, says Prof. John H. Austin, hair and scalp specialist, who has been associated with The May Co. for ten years.

Both men and women owe it to themselves to keep their hair healthy, beautiful and abundant, and the proper corrective treatment of scalp disorders will do this.

Nature's signs of distress—dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair, dry or brittle hair—warn you of approaching baldness. Do not wait a day. See Prof. Austin, over forty years a hair and scalp specialist. He will advise you what to do free of charge.

Prof. Austin says the use of orange, carnelian, druse, hair tonic, etc., without proper advice, is like taking medicine without knowing what you are trying to cure.

FACTORS' STOCK CONTROL DENIED

Hackfeld Witness Discounts "Big Three" Corner

Defendant Cooke Says He Offered to Resign

Tells of Making $40,000 in Securities Deal

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The so-called "Big Three" sugar factors—Alexander & Baldwin, Castle & Cooke and C. Brewer & Co.—do not now and never have controlled a majority of stock in American Factors, R. A. Cooke, one of the defendants in the Hackfeld-American Factors litigation, testified today.

Cooke further denied that the three foregoing sugar factors and their "friends" controlled American Factors as alleged by plaintiffs in the $10,000,000 equity suit. After his appointment as a director of H. Hackfeld & Co. in March, 1918, Cooke wrote A. Mitchell Palmer, alien-property custodian, fully explaining his business connections and stating he would gladly decline the appointment if, by reason of his business associations, the custodian should deem him ineligible to serve. Cooke's correspondence disclosed in April Palmer replied, reaffirming Cooke's appointment.

Cooke denied there was any pooling agreement among the majority stockholders of American Factors, other than the voting-trust arrangement formed at the suggestion of the custodian. No restrictions of any kind were placed on any of the stockholders, Cooke said.

"I bought twenty-five shares of American Factors stock and later sold it at the purchase price of $110.00," Cooke testified. "The C. I. Cooke, Ltd., sold its stock in 1923 for $195, making a profit of about $40,000, exclusive of dividends."

Any group or syndicate such as that composed of the Hawaiian sugar interests would have been given, and were given, an equal opportunity to buy into American Factors, Cooke declared.

Cross-examination of Cooke will be resumed tomorrow.

The largest of the two new gushers was the Matamor Oil Company's No. 1 well which is making approximately 1000 barrels of oil a day with an actual gauge of 500 barrels in twelve hours. ## SHEPHERD CLEWS LINKED

Mercury Discovery Co-ordinates State's Theories; Defense Holds Exhumation Part of Plot

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, April 6.—Possibility that mercuric cyanide, a quick, certain lethal agency, might have caused death with symptoms of prussic acid poisoning and still leave traces of mercury to hint its use in a body long dead, today gave new direction to the investigation of the death of William Nelson McClintock.

Until this lead took up the attention of the analysts today the presence of mercury in the bodies of Dr. Oscar Olson and Mrs. Emma Nelson McClintock had failed to fit in with any of the theories of the prosecution. Apparently the discovery had been a surprise also to the attorneys who are defending William Darling Shepherd on the charge that he murdered Billy McClintock.

Attorney William Scott Stewart of counsel for the defense issued a statement charging that the exhumation of the bodies of Dr. Olson and Mrs. McClintock had been part of a plot on the part of the State to stir up public sentiment against Shepherd.

Today's developments, however, have taken away the theories of the prosecution and to make explanations more difficult for the defense. If mercuric cyanide caused the death of Dr. Olson it was believed that the unexpected

CAMERA SPURS EXCAVATORS

Natives Get Busy With Pick and Shovel When Picture Machine Clicks at Carthage "Diggings"

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

EXCAVATION CAMP, CARTHAGE (Tunisia) April 6.—The call of movies is being felt even by the Berber workmen employed in the excavation being carried on by the Franco-American expedition at Carthage and by Count Byron Kuhn de Prorok at Utica.

The natives were never so industrious and willing as they have been since Maurice Kellerman began taking pictures of the archaeological operations going on here in the drama of uncovering a buried civilization.

The role of the workmen is, of course, to work. Though some of them at first showed little aptitude for the job, they have all exhibited for the movie camera diligence with the pick and shovel which has surprised Edward R. Stearns, director of excavations.

NO LACK OF SUPERS When Mr. Kellerman appears at the "diggings" not only does the activity increase amazingly but also the personnel. There is no lack of "supers" and no need to hire them. The workmen send out their small boys to gather in the family and friends and present scientific Berbers greeted with such cries as:

"Hey, Ah, grab a pick and get busy. He's taking a picture of us; you'll be in the movies." Needless to say, they all want to know when the film will be shown in theaters and a picture is taken of them. Detailed scientific still pictures of the finds are being taken by George R. Swain of the University of Michigan.

KURDS RETAKE TWO TOWNS

Turkey Throws 70,000 Into Fight and Offers Reward for Revolt Leader's Head

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 6.—The Turkish offensive in Kurdistan is meeting with violent resistance. The Kurds apparently have recaptured Palou and Silvan from the Turkish troops and are still holding the important towns captured a week ago.

The Turkish government is offering 1000 pounds (Turkish) for the capture of Sheik Said alive or 700 pounds for him dead. The Turkish staff has thrown at least 70,000 troops into Kurdistan and has mobilized every young man in Anatolia as far west as Angora and Konia. The military preparations will cost Turkey 20,000,000 pounds, not counting the economic loss. The crops this spring will suffer tremendously.

Sheik Said is now credited with 30,000 fanatical followers who are going into battle everywhere with the green flag of the prophet, the koran. They are fighting desperately.

There has been an intense blizzard since the Turkish offensive commenced a week ago and under the cover of six feet of snow the Kurds are carrying on a violent guerrilla warfare. At least nine Turkish columns, pushing into the revolted mountainous area through deep passes have occupied Arg-hana and several other leading towns. Official communiques provide the only news.

Pastor Believes Officer-Slayer of Girl His Son

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) NEW YORK, April 6.—Rev. J. Milton Thompson, pastor of the Russell Sage Memorial Church at Far Rockaway, said today there was little doubt that Lieut. J. S. Thompson, who shot and killed a girl, was the son of his son, who was graduated from West Point last year and has been stationed in the Philippines since last fall.

Dr. Thompson's son is 24 years of age. He enlisted in the Army in 1917, served three years on the Texas border and then was admitted to West Point.

Lieut. Thompson was tried for murder by court-martial for having shot and killed Miss Burleigh in an automobile on the outskirts of Manila. The girl, 17 years of age, was the stepdaughter of Capt. H. P. Calmes, United States Medical Corps.

NEW BILLS PAID STATE SURPLUS

Legislature Appropriates More Than $2,000,000

Approval is Given Despite Governor's Warning

Capitol Extension Building is Major Item

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SACRAMENTO, April 6.—Despite the warning repeatedly sounded by Gov. Richardson that he proposes to protect the surplus in the State Treasury against the "pork-barrel" assaults, the California Legislature today passed special appropriation bills totaling more than $2,000,000. Most of the measures were passed in the Senate and practically all of them were approved without opposition.

Among the bills passed was one by Senator Chester Klins appropriating $25,000 for the establishment and maintenance of a seed inspection laboratory in Los Angeles. The large measure passed calls for an appropriation of $1,300,000 for the completion of the State Capitol extension building in Sacramento. The proposed State building loan issue of $6,500,000 fails of approval.

RETURNS SIX BILLS

In line with the oft-repeated warning that he is determined to veto a good portion of the measures that are sent to him by the Legislature, Gov. Richardson returned to the Senate and Assembly today six bills without his approval. This is the greatest number of measures vetoed by the executive on one day since the Legislature has been in session.

One of the most important measures vetoed would have permitted State building and loan associations to invest 25 per cent of their assets in investment certificates of other associations. The Governor refused to sign the bill on the ground "that any change in the law tending to break down the conservatism character of the building and loan associations will prove a menace to thousands of small investors who have placed their savings in these institutions and are paying for their modest homes by monthly installments."

"To preserve the beneficial character of these associations," the Governor's veto statement continued, "it is important that they be conducted on a most conservative basis. This bill might result in the pyramiding of securities of various associations with disastrous results. Under this bill a chain system of building and loan associations might be built up with as little stability as a house of cards."

SCIENTIST MEASURE

Representatives of the Christian Science Church appeared before the Senate Judiciary Committee today and presented an amendment to Senate Bill No. 516, amending the State Workmen's Compensation Insurance Act, which would permit an employee who was injured in line of duty to be treated "by prayer or spiritual means as an exercise or enjoyment of religious freedom, instead of by medical or surgical treatment, if he so desired."

Some objection was raised as to the construction of the amendment and it was referred to a special committee consisting of Senators Sample, Swing and Nelson, who will confer with the proponents and opponents in the hope of working out a solution of the matter.

Kentucky Court Day Gun Battle Costs Two Lives

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) LOUISVILLE, April 6.—Two men were reported shot to death and two others taken to a hospital following a gun battle on the streets of Albany, Ky., near the Kentucky-Tennessee border at noon today.

Roscoe Patterson, 40 years of age, and his son, Walter, 21, were reported dead.

It was county court day in Albany and the streets were filled with people. A bootleggers' quarrel is believed to have started the trouble. The men were undeterred to have participated in the shooting. They met on the sidewalk and drew revolvers, it was reported.

Harvey Stears, 40 years of age, and J. D. Lowhorn, 48, both of Shipshewer, were wounded. Lowhorn was understood to have lost one hand in the shooting. All were farmers.

NAPLES, April 6.—The arrival of Frank Stearns, Boston merchant and personal friend of President Coolidge, and Thomas Lamont of J. P. In official circles in Rome, for instance, it is believed Mr. Stearns is sound on Italian and French economic conditions. President Coolidge's proposed new disarmament conference, and the same circles believe Mr. Stearns will have some to do with the stabilization of Italian currency, perhaps a loan to Italy from the house of Morgan.

BOTH HAVE ALIBIS

Traffic was blocked on the gangway of the steamer Duilio when Stearns and Lamont arrived. Stearns party, descending, and ever in the hotel both American and Italian provided complete alibis. Of course, it is true I am glad to be the President's friend," said Stearns. "I am going to Italy and France. I have a confidential talk with the President, as reported by the press. They say I am going to him a report on the reaction of the European prime ministers to his disarmament plan. They say I am a dove of peace. I am not. I am no more than a lot of foot walker on a vacation. I am in Italy in 1870, at the time of the revolution, and am renewing old acquaintances. There are several unquestionable facts about Vacuum Cleaners that every prospective purchaser should know before buying—

1. Only vacuum cleaners equipped with a motor driven brush will pick up all kinds of surface litter clean—once over.
2. The strongest suction obtainable in a portable vacuum cleaner without the aid of a motor driven brush to vibrate and agitate the fabric will not thoroughly clean it. Powerful suction plus motor driven brush are necessary.
3. A ball bearing motor and ball bearing brush bearings packed in grease will give from five to fifteen more years of service than will cleaners equipped with ordinary bronze sleeve bearings.
4. Wheels to carry the cleaner nozzle are absolutely necessary in order to raise the rug off the floor by suction and pass the air through it.

The

Premier

The Premier Duplex is easier to operate and will give more years of satisfactory service than any portable cleaner built."

These are facts. Make us prove them. When you purchase a Premier Duplex you buy the "Best by Test."

Arthur D. Howden

"Robert," I whispered back, and commenced to climb. Both Murray and O'Donnell—the latter for the time being stirred out of his habitual gloom—assisted me over the window-sill, and it affected me oddly to note my great-uncle's unconcern for the water I dripped on his sliver coat.

"You ha' suffered no hurt?" he asked eagerly.

"No, no," I answered. "Make haste to help Peter up. They are coming against us with the making of the ebb."

He was betwixt me and the window, and I could see the faint smile of satisfaction on his face.

"Tis what was to be expected of them," he remarked. "We must improve our watch. Tis no compliment to our people that they failed to suspect aught of your going and coming."

Peter squatted into the cabin like an enormous toad.

"Oor!" he squeaked. "I ha' bubbles under my skin. We ha' a fight tonight, Murray, ja."

"Thank you to you and Robert, friend Peter, 'twill be rather in the nature of a chastisement than a fight," he answered urbanely.

"If you will pardon me, gentle men, I will go and complete the necessary arrangements."

A tinkle of glass told me that O'Donnell was refilling his goblet.

"What's a fight to the likes of him?" muttered the Irishman dolefully. "Treachery and scheming and murdering, ay, it's a fine night for such. Oh, blessed saints, where'll we be this time the morrow?"

"Safe beyond question," I sought to encourage him as I drew my breeches. "Tis never the Walrus scaly crew will overcome us."

"Be not too sure, Master O'Donnell," he retorted with unusual vehemence. "I am thinking there is the curse of high heaven on this venture and all connected with it."

Nevertheless he buckled on his sword and accompanied us to the deck when we were dressed. Men were scurrying silently to and fro, and from an open hatch came the whine of ladders as pieces were shifted on the gundeck. Aloft, squads of topmen were unfurling shreds of canvas to give the James steering way at need. On the poop my great-uncle was issuing his final orders to Martin, Saunders and Couper.

"You, Saunders," he said, "will stand by the anchor-cable with a broad-ax as upon my giving the word he'll haul it up. Your position, Martin, will be in the waist. Keep men on the fore and main yards, ready to make sail when the cable is cut. Couper, of you I expect an initial broadside of crushing effect and a second fire of circumstance. Now to your stations, and above all things instruct your men to preserve silence. The man who makes a noise I will blow from a gun forthwith, and let that be my declaration to Flint!"

The officers gave their acknowledgments and flitted away. Simultaneously Peter pointed up the inlet.

"See!" he exclaimed. "The Walrus's riding-light winked out. An interval of minutes, and of the light-lights followed it. Another interval, and she disappeared completely in the black maw of the night."

My great-uncle sneezed delicately.

"In the dark one is clumsy," he observed. "I fear I have abused my nose with an over-heavy dose of Rip-Rap. Well, well! Perhaps there is a parable in the incident of such clever fellows as Capt. Flint."

"I must ask you not to move about, gentlemen, as I have the better part of a glass to wait for the ebb, but caution is our watchword!"

We heard the Walrus before we had sight of her—the slapping of a head-sail, a rattling block, a vague creak of cordage. Then a shadow of a night shadow, a towering spiderweb of spars and lacy rigging, stealing ghost-like from the enveloping dark.

She floated nearer. Nearer still. And nearer. It seemed that the two vessels must collide, and the suspense became unbearable. I wondered at my great-uncle's restraint. Would he never—I gasped with relief as his cool, even tones clove the silence.

"Touch off, Couper!"

Crash! The deck leaped underfoot; the anchored hull surged forward. A red sheet of flame girdled the James's side, and in the instant's glare the Walrus was revealed in stark detail against a settling of glittering, black water and low, forested shores. I saw a man in her stern, a shadow, a man in her stern, a shadow, a man in her stern, a shadow.

She floated nearer. Nearer still. And nearer. It seemed that the two vessels must collide, and the suspense became unbearable. I wondered at my great-uncle's restraint. Would he never—I gasped with relief as his cool, even tones clove the silence.

"Get ye below, my maid until we—"

There was a harsh, whistling sound in the air, and the hairs on one side of my head rose up, and on the heels of this came the thud of a shot as it struck timber.

"Close, egad!" commented my great-uncle.

O'Donnell awayed strangely and drooped over his daughter's shoulder.

"Padre!" The dazed grief in her voice was tragic. "Why won't ye stand? Are ye hit? Oh, blessed Virgin, there's no sense left in him! Bob, Master Peter, help me! He's so—so—heavy."

Peter and I jumped to aid her, and Murray was not far behind us. We lowered O'Donnell's tall body to the deck, and I ran for a lantern. When I returned with it my great-uncle had assumed command of the situation.

"We can feel no blood or broken bones," he said. "Hold your light here by his head, if you please, Robert."

The yellow glow played over the Irishman's long face. His lips were drawn back in what had been a smile; his eyes were fixed and glassy; no pulse beat in his corded throat. Noir crunched beside him, chafing his limp hands and crooning a melody of endearments in English, Irish and Spanish. Murray, opposite her, thrust exploring fingers into the bosom of her father's shirt. A startled look appeared in my great-uncle's lambent eyes, but his features preserved their immobility.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

MEXICALI, April 6.—Political tension that has been smoldering in the City Council chamber since the election last July, was transferred to the courts last Saturday when the minority group, headed by A. B. Valencia, a prominent business man of Mexicali, secured a complete victory in the election of the five Council members in the controlling faction with 11,000 pesos from the city treasury.

Valencia, who is Municipal President, and Luis G. Valdez, Ramon G. Valdez, and Cesar Mendez, who were arrested yesterday and later released under bond pending their preliminary hearing, complained, according to the complaint, the minority group of the treasury, but it was stated by Valencia that the money was stolen. He charges that the action is a political move designed to discredit his administration, and that the money taken was used for the salaries of the officials.

NEW YORK BONDS

Some Improvement Shown
(By F. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, April 6.—Moderate improvement took place in the bond market today, although the pace of trading was slow. Several railroad and industrial issues responded to special developments affecting individual companies, but otherwise interest was at a low ebb and prices were held within narrow limits.

Suffering of call money rates was attributed to temporary measures adopted by the banks to strengthen their reserves. The higher rates were disregarded by the bond market, which showed a sympathetic response to the upturn in stocks.

Convertible railroad bonds were among the outstanding strong spots today. Delaware and Hudson sold at a new high price of 107 5/8 in reflection of the road's proposal to segregate its coal properties. The movement corresponded to a rise in the company's stock into which the bonds are convertible at the rate of $150 for $100 in shares. Norfolk and Western convertible 4 1/2% mounted almost 3 points and New York Central 4 1/2% moved up about a point.

Increased interest in motor securities and predictions by one of the largest tire manufacturers that prices were bound to go higher contributed to the strength of the rubber company issues.

Kelly Springfield advanced 2 points and led an upward movement which included United States Rubber and Goodrich issues. Other strong spots were the Wilson Packing convertible bonds, Pan American Petroleum 6 1/2% and 5 1/2%, French obligations under a new foreign loan, but the foreign list as a whole showed little change. United States government bonds were steady.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and the United States government bonds (quoted in dollars and thirty-sixths of dollars):

Winners All Have Records of School Honors

Having triumphed in two preliminary rounds over nearly 20,000 of their fellow-orators, the champions of thirty-six districts in the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution in Southern California are now anxiously looking forward to the third test, the semi-final group meets, to take place in six different localities on the evening of the 17th inst.

The schools in this group are Roosevelt High, Los Angeles, championed by Herman Kreitzer; Belmont High, Los Angeles, whose champion is Arthur Redden; Burbank High, represented by Donald Newcomer; Loyola College, represented by Eugene F. McElwee, and Owens Valley High, represented by Howard Kennedy.

Kreitzer won first place at Roosevelt in the National Oratorical Contest in 1924. He is greatly interested in the study of the Constitution, attributing that interest largely to his work in the contest. He states that the research work necessary in the preparation of orations this year and last has given him an insight into the fundamental law he could never otherwise have obtained. He expects his high-school course, which he is studying now, to be of great help to him in the study of the Constitution.

The Lancer

STRIPPED of all the bunk and financial rattle-dangle, the French crisis amounts to this: France is a weak nation trying to dominate Europe. Her dilemma is pliable and hopeless. She is lacking in three essentials necessary to make her the strong and predominant power: that she seeks to be. She lacks man power; she is in bad shape in the matter of diplomatic alliances; her military position has come to be one of almost fatal strategic difficulties.

RAIN CRYSTAL COMPANY HOST

Splendid Program Presented in Debut at KHJ
Great Career is Predicted for Fern Fitzwater

Hour of Music is Sponsored by El Encanto

BY CLARE MELLONINO
As had been predicted for the past few days, the debut of the Rain Crystal Company at KHJ was indeed a success. The program was indeed a success. The program was indeed a success.

For their program, their representative, O. Allison Phelps, the radio philosopher, selected William Van den Burg, cellist; Fern Fitzwater, soprano; the Crystal Trio, The Hawaiian Melody Three, and Albert, piano accompanist. The program was indeed a success.

NEW SOPRANO PLEASES
The occasion marked Fern Fitzwater's bow to Radioland. Bearing the indelible stamp of her former, Henri de Buscher, Fern Fitzwater revealed a timbre of voice that fairly rang with the incomparable spirit of youth. Her delivery and flexibility permitted her to render phrases that could be likened to the spinning of a new thread. She combined color, smoothness and musicality to a degree rarely found in the young singer, and we believe Miss Fitzwater will travel far in her chosen art.

William Van den Burg is a cellist whose gifts are far above the ordinary. His tone, phrasing, technique and mental equipment leave nothing to be desired. Miss Gail, endowed with a natural faculty for portraying the humorous character studies of her type at work and at play, bringing roars of laughter from the studio audience. The Crystal Trio gave an excellent program of the semiclassical and the clarity implied by their name. Dave Albert understands thoroughly the art of coaxing from his instrument its hidden melodies. He brought from his instrument more harmony than one would expect in the accompaniment.

PLAYLET PRESENTED
The one-act play written by S. Mellonino is the third he has written for KHJ within the past few weeks. The characters were played by Uncle John, the host and myself. This play like all the others written at the request of G. Allison Phelps, who believes in the value of plays on any program, particularly one written especially for the occasion as the "Rain."

G. Allison Phelps, the radio philosopher, delivered another discussion on life, selecting for his subject "Sustaining Influences." In his talk, he said: "If you desire to live, think richly. Pour a little of the compound of consideration into your mind and with it, make the poverty that exists in you. You cannot ever lose any of that you have once really gained. If you expect to gain anything, you must be willing to give. Rich thinking will bring riches but poor thinking will bring poverty. The difference is in the way you think. Luxuries will not exist in cramped quarters. If you want to gain anything big you must make room for it. If you want to broaden your life you'll have to first broaden your mind. If you are clinging to the hard-earned, you will never be quenched."

EL ENCANTO HOSTS
From 7 to 8 p.m. a delightful hour of music was sponsored by El Encanto Apartments, who have such artists as Morris Morris, violinist, and Morris Wolcott, pianist and accompanist.

These two musicians are too familiar to our radio family to require any comment on their work. They typify the best talent available in the Southland and are always additions to any program. It was also our pleasure to introduce in this concert a combination of well-known figures in local musical circles. Under the name of the Scottish Rite Trio Melba French Barr, soprano; Eleanor Woodford, soprano, and Alice Lohr, contralto, have united their respective talents with the result that proved one of the most delightful features ever presented from KHJ. Musical equipment, color, range are all attributes of this recently formed trio. The Burkman Brothers Hawaiian String Quartet completed an unusual musical.

ROMANCE OF KHJ STUDIO IS REVEALED

Claire Forbes Crane, Radio Editor and S. E. Mellonino Are Married

A real radio romance that had its beginning nearly a year ago under the watchful eye of Uncle John in the studio of KHJ, culminated Sunday afternoon, March 15, when Claire Forbes Crane, radio editor, and S. E. Mellonino, former radio editor and program manager, were united in marriage by Dr. Alden Webb, who had also served in the capacity of radio editor.

In the shadow of the Pilgrimage Cross, touched with the last rays of the setting sun, Claire Forbes Crane and S. E. Mellonino stood with clasped hands as Dr. Webb pronounced them man and wife. A mocking bird whistled to his mate a cricket chirped gaily, these the only witnesses to the strange wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Mellonino came directly to The Times studio and Uncle John announced the marriage to thousands of listeners during the Children's Hour.

The bride is known to radio fans as a brilliant pianist. She was educated in Boston; the only pupil of Dr. Carl Muck, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. She made her debut with that organization when she was 17 years of age and was the youngest artist Dr. Muck had ever introduced to the orchestra's audiences.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Mellonino are continuing their work with KHJ and expect to make their permanent home in Los Angeles.

Man Dies From Poison Taken at Rooming House

A man believed to be Martin Sweeney, 45 years of age, ended his life yesterday in a rooming-house at 1205 1/2 Central avenue by swallowing poison. The suicide victim came to the rooming-house Sunday night and registered as M. James of Montebello.

The landlord found him unconscious in his room yesterday morning and he was removed to the Receiving Hospital, but died there in a few minutes. Detective Lieutenant Stevens, who investigated, stated that it was obviously a case of suicide. Relatives of the suicide are being sought.

Ranch Foreman Denies Charge of Steer Theft

Harry Lockhart, foreman of a ranch on the Ridge route, went on trial in Judge Cralf's court yesterday, charged with the theft of a steer from William J. Schmidt, a neighboring rancher.

Lockhart denies that he is a cattle rustler, and declared he slaughtered the steer in question because he believed it to be one of five animals he had bought. The five steers, Lockhart asserts, broke out and strayed to an adjoining ranch. In recovering the strayed steers, Lockhart declares, the animal owned by Schmidt was taken by mistake.

The case is being prosecuted by Dep. Dist. Atty. Fee, and Lockhart is being represented by Attorneys Ford and Bodkin.

Do you know what Linoleum really is?

OF THE millions of people who walk daily upon a colorful, comfortable floor of linoleum, few know the interesting story of its remarkable beginning. Over sixty years ago, Frederick Walton, an Englishman, who kept his eyes open and his mind alert, noticed the tough, pliable quality of the "skin" that forms on a can of paint exposed to the air.

Realizing that this was "oxidized" linseed oil he experimented in combining linseed oil with ground cork. He was searching for a substitute for rubber. By "oxidizing" or exposing this mass to the air he obtained a durable, elastic material which he pressed on to a backing of cloth or burlap—and a new material for floors was invented.

It was not exactly like rubber, for it was odorless, smooth, springy, waterproof, quiet to walk upon, and wonderfully durable. Mr. Walton called the new product Linoleum.

While linoleum was first used mostly for the kitchen and bathroom, with the marked improvement that came in designs and soft color tones, Blabon floors of linoleum are now used for every room upstairs and down. Indeed, they constitute an important part of the decorative scheme in many a tastefully furnished home.

Blabon's Linoleum is sold by good home-furnishing and department stores. If your dealer hasn't it, write us his name and we will see that you are supplied. Booklet showing 22 characteristic patterns in color mailed free, on request.

Two recent novels also will be reviewed, "Soundings" by Hamilton Gibbie, and "The Virgin Flame," by Ernest Pascal.

The present case has to do with the transportation of liquor from Long Beach to a warehouse in this city. Ervin Dingle and C. L. Winters, principals in the case, have been fined $500 each, and the attorney for H. Brooks-Kiewit, jointly indicted with them, said his client would enter a plea of guilty.

Why Spring Brings Out Freckles and Eruptions
The sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines at this season is attributed by scientists to the "actinic ray," which is unusually active during the spring months. Where the skin is so affected by this influence, if one will procure an ounce of ordinary mercuric ointment before retiring, like cold cream, the trouble can easily be overcome. When the wax is washed off next morning minute flaky skin particles come to the surface. The entire ointment soon is removed in this way with all its defects. No harshness or effect is felt. Freckles, moths, patches, liver spots, pimples, or other cutaneous blemishes. The new surface is smooth, clear, fresh looking, youthful. No harm or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment.

THE LAST WOMAN
BY ALMA WHITMAN
Her Quest of Romance
Somehow she looked more like one of those old-fashioned naughty cartoons of masculinized suffragettes than anyone I had ever seen. The mannish suit, the hard white collar, the stern uncompromising hat, the thick shoes — and she walked with a stride.

She spoke in sharp accents, smoked her cigarette like a man. But presently she softened a little as we became confidential. I was listening enthralled—for she had pioneered in so many things, dared so much, succeeded so well.

Round about forty something now, perhaps, but still a good figure in her mannish way and looking much younger when she smiled without cynicism.

Mrs. Fred Seibly will be in charge of a bridge tea to be given the 20th inst., by the Euterpe Opera Reading Club at the Ambassador.

Pyorrhea Its Cause and Effect
Pyorrhea Alveolaris is an insidious infection of the teeth and gums, caused by the presence of a bacteria known professionally as the Streptococcus Viridans.

Without this organism pyorrhea cannot exist and its destruction immediately removes the cause of the disease.

At the beginning of the infection there are practically no symptoms, but soon bleeding of the gums becomes noticeable and often a sense of pressure, as if something is wedged between the teeth is felt. Later the gums become inflamed, the teeth get loose and there is a pus formation. From this point the progress of the disease is rapid, and unless checked, leads eventually to a total loss of the defective teeth, terrible pain and often a serious poisoning of the entire system, developing into chronic cases of diabetes, nephritis, arterio-sclerosis, and other internal disorders.

At the first apparent symptoms of this dread disease, which is said to have its hold on seven out of every ten of our population, immediate action should be taken to check its progress.

The most successful of the many remedies that have been devised and the one that is endorsed by most of the leading specialists is a specific known as Kentos. This is a liquid, which when taken into the mouth immediately penetrates to the diseased parts and completely destroys the bacteria causing the infection. The most stubborn cases yield almost immediately to the Kentos treatment and thousands of users have testified that it is the one unapproachable Pyorrhea remedy.

Kentos is sold by all leading druggists on an absolute "money-back-if-not-satisfied" guarantee.

The price is one dollar for a large bottle.—Advertisement.

COUPLE HELD IN THEFT OF CHILD

Mistler and Wife Are Both Lodged in Jail

Husband Taken Soon After Complaint is Issued

Deputy Sheriffs Promise Amazing Disclosures

Within five minutes after the issuance of a complaint yesterday charging George H. Mistler of Bell with contributing to the delinquency of pretty Mildred Trueblood, 14 years of age, Mistler was lodged in the County Jail to await arraignment on the charge. The warrant for his arrest was obtained through Deputy District Attorney Miss Woodhead by Deputy Sheriff Norris Stensland while Mistler sat in conference in the Sheriff's office with Deputy Sheriff William J. Bright. A telephone call resulted in the detention until his transfer to jail.

Mistler's wife already was in jail on a charge of child stealing. The two are accused of taking the girl from her parents, keeping her in their home and then attempting to mislead officers who were searching for her following a supposed disappearance from the home of her parents.

Prosecution of the case, according to deputy sheriffs, will result in amazing disclosures, although they are not yet ready to reveal the nature of the evidence they expect to introduce.

With Mr. and Mrs. Mistler in jail, a hearing in juvenile court to determine whether or not Mildred is a delinquent was temporarily postponed. The case against her asserted keepers.

According to Deputy Sheriff Norris Stensland, who has developed, he says, a mass of evidence in the matter, an attempt will be made through the courts to have Mildred placed in the custody of an aunt in Denver. Any move to have her returned to her parents will be strenuously opposed by deputy sheriffs, he said.

The complaint on which Mistler was jailed was sworn to by Mrs. Edna Trueblood, mother of the girl.

NEW STYLE HYDRANT TO AID FIREMEN

Invention of Battalion Chief Blake Does Away With Hose Shift

Battalion Chief Blake of the city fire department has invented a new street fire hydrant which will save precious minutes when the fire department first starts to work on a blaze.

Outside the downtown district when the department arrives at a fire they immediately connect their hose to the street hydrant and run a line to the blaze, using only the city water pressure in the mains. This is in order to get water to the fire without an instance of delay.

The engine then returns to the hydrant and connects its pump to the city main. This requires shutting off of the water, and so the firemen at the blaze are without water while their hose line is being transferred from the hydrant to the engine pump.

With Chief Blake's new hydrant the hose is connected as at present, but the transfer from the city main pressure to the engine pump is made without any interruption of the delivery of the water at the blaze. The new hydrant was given an official test with Fire Chief Scott as a spectator yesterday afternoon. The hydrant is being manufactured by the Rick Company of Los Angeles.

FOOD SHOW TICKETS TO BE DISTRIBUTED

DAIRYMEN AND GROCERS TO GIVE FAIRLY PAID ADMISSIONS

One million partly paid tickets to the second annual Food and Household show, which opens Saturday in Ambassador Auditorium, will be distributed this week at families of the city through the Los Angeles grocers and milk dealers, according to an announcement yesterday by Waldo T. Tupper, business manager for the exposition.

Both members of the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association and the California Dairy Council, it was said, have agreed to assist in the ticket distribution. Through arrangements perfected with the exposition by the grocers and dairymen, each of the tickets will be shown to have a value of ten cents when presented at the Food and Household show as part payment on a twenty-five-cent admission.

Jay E. Dutter, who is supervising the super-marketing contest, to be given at the Food and Household show, will be in charge of distribution for the Dairy Council, while Jules V. Riviere, treasurer for the Grocers' Association, has been assigned the same work for that organization.

FEWER PROBATIONS

A decrease in the percentage of probations granted last month is also noted, when forty-eight defendants were granted probation (or 40.3 per cent.) as compared with forty-four (or 47.3 per cent) for the month of February. Seventy-two defendants were denied probation (or 59.7 per cent.) as compared with forty-nine (or 52.7 per cent) for the month of February. The criminal records also show that during the month of March a decided improvement was made in the number of probations granted in cases where defendants had appeared guilty of violent crimes; the percentages being 25.6 per cent granted and 74.4 per cent denied, as compared with 44.2 per cent granted and 55.8 per cent denied during the month of February.

In March the records show that there were eighty-two changes of plea from guilty to guilty and twenty cases were placed off calendar.

BIGAMY CHARGED TO MAN LIVING WITH GIRL

Fred Fco, 25 years of age, was arrested at 1135 Mariana street last night by Officer Perry of the police crime prevention bureau, and lodged in the City Jail on suspicion of bigamy. According to police, Fco has a wife and three children in Newburgh, N. Y., and has been living with a 18-year-old girl here, whom he said he married.

Wives in Divorce Mix-Up
Mrs. Helen Cantrell (left), plaintiff, and Mrs. Lillian Brummer (right), defendant.
TRIANGLE IN EACH FAMILY
Wife in One Case, Husband in Other, Accuse Spouses as Defendants and Corespondents
If the shade of Euclid had strolled into the courtrooms of Judges Summerfield and Gates yesterday during alimony hearings he would have been puzzled by the problem presented. For he would have seen two marital triangles grow out of four angles, whereas six were always necessary in his day, that is, mathematically speaking.
The two couples, figures in two triangles, are Porter G. Cantrell and his wife, Helen, and Morris Brummer and his spouse, Lillian. Mrs. Cantrell sued Cantrell for divorce, naming Mrs. Brummer. Brummer likewise asks severance of the marital bond, naming Cantrell.
DOES ALSO INVOLVED
Another coincidence is that Brummer also names John Doe as co-respondent and Mrs. Cantrell names Jane Doe. Although bearing the same name, it is not known whether the Does are married. Another coincidence is that Attorney Jack Greenberg represents both plaintiffs.
Cantrell and Brummer agreed on one thing, they told Judges Summerfield and Gates, in whose respective courts they appeared. Cantrell was asked how he was able to maintain a sleek, well-fed appearance on $175, which he said, was the sum total of his earnings since January 1.
ORDERS LAMP RUBBED
"Judge," he said, "I wonder myself, sometimes."
"Presumably you have some kind of an Aladdin's lamp," the court observed. "If so, I suggest you rub the lamp a little harder and produce $1 a week for the support of your child."
As for Mrs. Brummer, Brummer hinted that she altered checks he had given her to obtain money. He also declared she charged a coat suit after he had given her $100 to pay for it.
When the hearing was completed Judge Gates ordered Brummer to pay his wife $20 a week for her support.
SALES BODY ADDRESSED BY BLEDSOE
Trade Organization Hears Judge Promise Business Rule if Elected Mayor
A pledge that he would apply the principles of sound business to running the city government if elected Mayor was made by Judge Bledsoe last night to more than 150 members of the Los Angeles Sales Managers' Association at the annual banquet and election of officers at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. He directed his appeal for support to those present as business men who recognize the necessity for a sound program for carrying on business.
Officers for the association were elected as follows:
President, Phil J. Swearingen, Bishop & Co.; first vice-president, H. Everett Charlton, Seyler, Day & Co.; second vice-president, Phil E. Hart, California Lumber merchant; third vice-president, Joe Brignance, J. Benjamin Fahy Company, and secretary-treasurer, H. C. McClellan, Crescent Creamery Company. Directors were chosen as follows: Louis Crockett, Hudson-Essex dealer; D. M. Hirsch, Pacific Coast Biscuit Company; W. R. Law of Clark & Law, attorneys; Charles R. Pritchard, of Blake, Moffit & Towne, retiring president, and H. F. Stevens.
Foster's Opens Its Self-Service Specialty Shop
Foster's, the first self-service specialty shop on the Pacific Coast, opened its doors yesterday at 351-353 South Broadway.
The new shop is to be one of a chain of such establishments, according to Arthur Levy, who has arrived from New York for the opening. It occupies the entire five floors and basement of the building. George Geller, formerly with the Hudson Crock and Suit Company, New York, will have charge of the local shop. Foster's is a New York syndicate incorporated under the laws of that State with a capital of more than $100,000.

NEW GOLDWYN PACT RUMORED
Break With First National Reported at Studio
United Artists Release Said to be Considered
Must Make One More Picture Under Old Contract
At the conclusion of his present contract with First National, Samuel Goldwyn, film producer, will consider new releasing arrangements, according to the reports current at the United Studios yesterday.
Strength was given to the rumor by the admission of Joseph Schenck that he and Goldwyn had discussed a United Artists release for "Stella Dallas," the rights to which Goldwyn holds.
Goldwyn's contract to First National calls for him to make one more picture, it is said. This will be "The Dark Angel," a George Fitzmaurice production, according to present plans. Wilma Banky, European actress, has already arrived in Los Angeles to play in the picture.
Goldwyn is now in New York and Abraham Lehr, general manager of the Goldwyn organization, yesterday declared he could make no statement about the possibility of a break with First National. "I do not mean this as a tact admission of the report, either," he stated. "Mr. Goldwyn and I have had very little telegraphic communication about release and I do not know his plans. Releasing deals can fall through at a moment's notice, anyway."
John McCormick, western representative of First National, likewise declared yesterday he doesn't know what the future plans of Goldwyn are.
Goldwyn's contract with First National is said to carry a cost guarantee to him if the production does not run over $500,000. The profits on the picture are then split 65-35, it is said.
Henry King is scheduled to direct "Stella Dallas" for Goldwyn, while Fitzmaurice will do the "Dark Angel." The producer also will film "Pardners Again," one of the Potash and Perlmutter series.
Fitzmaurice is under personal contract to Goldwyn for a number of pictures yet, it is said.
The Goldwyn pictures which already have been released are "Cytherea," "The Eternal City," "Thief in Paradise," "Tarnish" and "Potash and Perlmutter in Hollywood."
Goldwyn will return to Los Angeles in ten days, it is said.
STRAY BULLET HITS CAR
The role of "innocent bystander" almost fell to F. E. Earl, 111 East One Hundred and Eighteenth street last night. While riding in his automobile at Temple and Figueroa streets, a bullet shattered the windshield of his car and narrowly missed hitting him, according to his report to police. Detective Wilson and Kirk investigated but could not determine the source of the mystery bullet.
THIEVES TAKE GIFTS IN STORE FOR NEEDY
Thieves defeated the well-laid plans of Mrs. Henry Gattman, 2214 Canyon Drive, Hollywood, Sunday night when they broke into her garage and carried off a bundle of blankets and clothing collected for the relief of an ex-serviceman and his family who are living in a tent in an auto camp at Lynwood. Mrs. Gattman is a member of the Philanthropy and Civics Club and chairman of the committee in charge of the club's Wholesome Fund. The articles of clothing were wrapped, ready to be delivered yesterday morning. When Mrs. Gattman went to her garage, the relief package had disappeared. She is now trying to raise a second fund, as the destitute family is in desperate need of help.

BOYDEN'S HONEY
like any other honey, is from many flowers. But Boyden's Honey is not only from many flowers but also from many kinds of flowers, a truly multiflores honey.

Nature is too capricious to produce a single flavor, like orange or sage, at its best year after year. So our experts choose only the finest and most delicately flavored honeys and combine them. That is why you can order Boyden's Honey from your grocer and be sure of its unvarying quality.
Come to our booth at the Food Show and talk with our representatives.
